About the Author

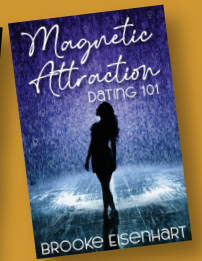

Brooke has been a creator and entrepreneur since she was very young. She has always loved reading and, as a young girl, would sometimes read an entire book in a day! She often spent her free time writing poetry and playing the piano, and wrote her first book, "Charlie's Life," when she was only in middle school.

Brooke has always been fiercely independent and is constantly seeking new opportunities. Due to her love for animals and her dedication to caring for people, Brooke began her career as a nurse and then went on to receive her master's degree, becoming a certified Nurse Practitioner over eleven years ago. She is now the CEO of two different companies, including a healthcare-based company that brings care to the elderly and disabled. She also desired to return to her creative roots and helped found what is now a three-tier publishing platform. Brooke is now the CEO of Paperclip Publishing, drawing upon her experience and knowledge to offer unique coaching opportunities to people from around the world.

Whether it be business, relationships/intimacy, or life-coaching, Brooke helps many people manifest their best lives. She also is an author herself and her next book is scheduled for release this December. When she is not working to develop new ideas and discover new authors, Brooke enjoys spending time with her children and family at home.
